DETAILED ACTION

Claims 2-37 and 39 are currently pending.

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 2-11 and 35-37, drawn to a composition (e.g. biocidal) comprising composite particles of a metal containing core and a pyrrithione adduct shell, classified in class 424, subclass 405.
 - II. Claims 12-24 and 32-34, drawn to a method of making a composite particle copper pyrrithione, classified in class 514, subclass 345+.
 - III. Claims 25-31, drawn to a coating composition and method of using to reduce/inhibit organisms, classified in class 156, subclass 300+.
 - IV. Claim 39, drawn to a shampoo or skin care composition comprising composite particles of a metal core and a pyrrithione shell, classified in class 510, subclass 119..
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product (e.g. biocidal composition) as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as those described in US. Pat. No. 5,510,109 and U.S. Pat. No. 5,595,750 on page 1 of the specification.

3. The compositions of Groups I, III and IV are drawn to distinctly different uses, would require different ingredients and are drawn to totally different areas of search as to constitute independent and/or distinct inventive compositions.
4. The method of Group II is independent and/or distinct from Groups III and IV which are drawn to different compositions having different uses and ingredients as compared to the method of making the composite. Additionally, Groups II-IV are drawn to divergent art areas requiring separate and individually burdensome searches.
5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and
 - a. have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification
 - b. require different and separately burdensome manual and computer searches;
 - c. due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

ELECTION OF SPECIES.

Upon selection of the Group I invention, the following election of species is herein required:

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: composition comprising different metals and pyrithione adduct compounds which respectively differ structurally, physicochemically, functionally and/or by means of manufacture as to constitute independent and/or patentably distinct species..

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species (e.g. a single metal and a single pyrrhione derivative compound) that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. A structure of the elected pyrrhione derivative, if not present, in the specification, is hereby requested for purposes of facilitating searching. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
